

Guinea Pig Studies of Wulzen & Bahrs

By Dr. Rosalind Wulzen and Alice Bahrs, Department of Zoology, Oregon State College 1941

Whole Raw Milk	Excellent growth; no abnormalities
Whole Pasteurized Milk	Poor growth; muscle stiffness; emaciation and weakness; death within one year. Autopsy revealed atrophied muscles streaked with calcification; tricalcium deposits under skin, in joints, heart and other organs.

Am J Physiology 1941, 133, 500